All Because of a What If...

Our first visit to your home gets us familiarized with what you would like to accomplish. You will meet the person who will oversee your project from concept to completion.

Together we will exchange ideas working with-in your budget.

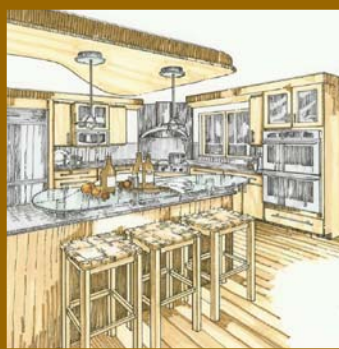

You may already have an idea and style in mind and we will be able to bring that to reality.

We always try to bring fresh ideas into all of our design build projects for a real custom look tailored to you.

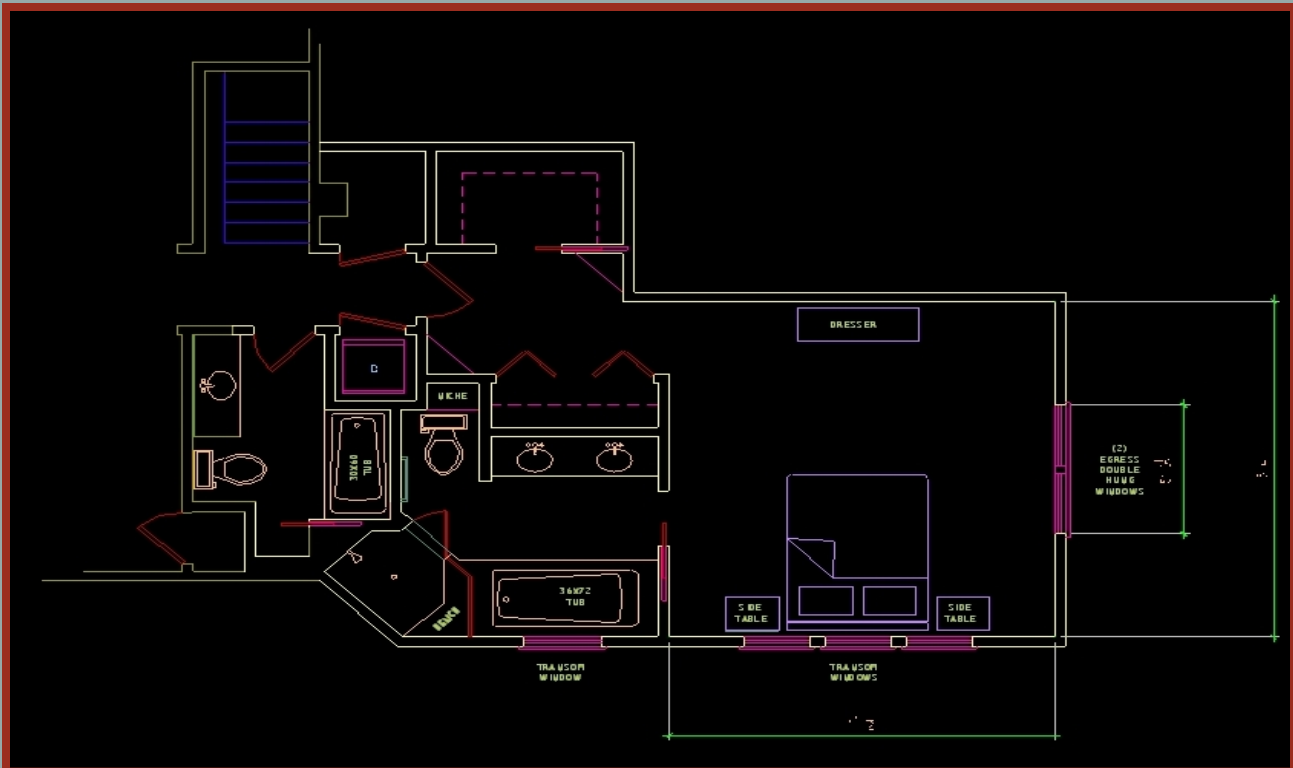

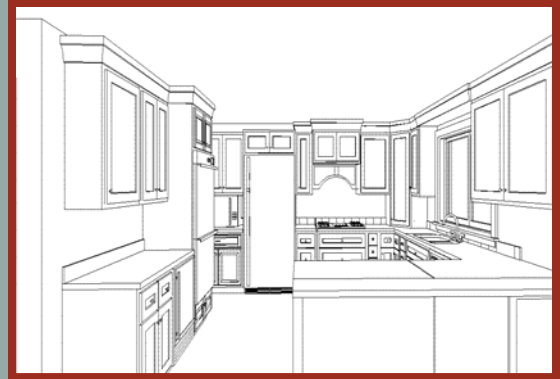

We will create a detailed wish list based on our extensive note taking through out our conversation.

We are then able to create

Our exclusive project scope and outline.

Once we have a rough idea in place we will than schedule an appointment to measure and take photos of your home. We also take this time to look into all existing conditions. This has proven to be a way to eliminate the unforeseen and hidden expenses. You at this time will be introduced to your architect. You will have comfort knowing the person who will be doing the actual drawing of your new space. You can contact us or him directly should you have any questions or concerns.

Choosing the KEY elements that define your tastes

We are now on our way to start putting all the design elements together. Since this process can be overwhelming to some with all the available products and different materials and finishes, we pride ourselves on our ability to show you based on our first visit and notes your personal preferences of materials you would like to use to create your perfect space.

While you were enjoying selecting all the materials and finishes for your new space we have been busy obtaining the building permits necessary to start the building phase. We will now go over the preliminary designs and make all if any changes to ensure you are getting exactly what you desire. Once the designs have been finalized we will prepare a full set of prints. The elevations, floor plans, specifications and your selections will be included in this set. We then verify the project budget based on any changes you may have added or deleted in the process. If you are completely satisfied with the layout and selections we will then have completed plan approval process.

Once we have the permits in hand, we will explain the entire building process to you and answer any questions you may have. You will be in direct contact with the person you met the very first day knowing they were involved in the entire process. Our goal is to build a positive relationship with all of our clients. Because we want your experience to be a great one we will provide protection of all areas surrounding the construction to help contain dust and debris. We will build temporary walls complete with a door for added safety and convenience. We provide a dumpster and port-o-jon at every project. You will receive a project schedule complete with a guaranteed completion date. We also provide an on site real time schedule with the day to day activities so you will always know which of our trades will be working on your home.

Now you can sit back and relax knowing we will handle every stage of your project and watch it all take shape.

We look forward to earning your business.
